October 15, 1970

Today, two old classmates visited me from my old home town in Rector. We had a nice chat, along with our tea and crumpets, and I found out things about people I hadn't heard from in years. Dear diary, do you recall some of these names that were written on your pages many years ago?

Wanetta Brannon, who was voted our most-likely-to-succeed girl is her own M.C. on NBC's "Homemaker's Program." Wanda Brittingham's latest Broadway hit is running for its seventh consecutive year, entitled "Watch It Grandma, Your Girdle's Showing." The Chilcutt twins are modeling for Toni Home Permanent. Their current motto is "Which twin has the mop-handle, we know who's got the mop." They were recently seen in Herlen Pruett's razzle dazzle Broadway production of The Magnificent Pretzel, as siamese twins. Sue Roofe and Zoro Rowten have opened a gift shop in New York on 5th Avenue recently, where such novelties as sky-hooks and atom bombs are sold. Nancy Rust is still holding her own as "the body" since she stole the title right out from Marilyn Monroe's curvey nose in 1960, with no visible means of competition as yet to show itself. Stella Shockley and Shirley Shrum own their own fur shop on Manhattan Island where they retailiate old furs at half price. Minnie Lou Simpson has received the title of Mrs. Batman." She now owns her own tot shop where she specializes in "Batman Suits." Emma Lou Reed is now in Memphis with her husband where they own the Griffith Shoe Polish Factory. Dean Moore and Jerry Stewart are running a lonely heart's club somewhere around Tipperary. Sue and Ralph Hayes are running a Modern Frog Farm in a small place called Hop-Toad, Arizona. Ronald Gatewood owns the Ford Distributing Company in Rector. Jackie Patten and Thomas Gardner, who are noted for their pioneer space-traveling started their latest expedition only last week, destination - MOON. G. T. Jackson is still trying to get a patent for his clock with no hands, so far, he's been out of luck; but such determination! Raymon Lawrence is a Texas cattleman, who recently bought Mexico as grazing land. Charles Livesey and Bob Perry - rest their souls. Reports from the spiritual world say that Charles was accepted in St. Peter's Angelical Choir only last week and that Bob is still shoveling coal down Helon.

Bill Mulhollen is of course our U.S. President serving his first term this year. He won the election by a landslide of votes on the Vegetarian Ticket. Donald Smith has been President of Rector Co-Ed College since its establishment in 1965. Jo Ann Morris has been coaching at Boydsville the last 5 years. Pat and Jerry Bishop announced the arrival of their 4th son. Jerry figures one more and he'll have that basketball team made. Earline Williams is pilot for Aldolphis (Larry) Pickler Municipal Air Lines, established in 1954. Don Bain and Jimmy Curtis are research chemists for the new Z Bomb. In their latest report, currently to be read in Popular Mechanics, Bain and Curtis predicted this would be the last bomb invented for obvious reasons. Mr. Telor Television this year is Gary Birchett for his new show, "This Is Your Death Sucker." Joe Calvin, who is a Sindicated Columnist for Scruppo-Howard, recently began a berash on political bosses for the 23rd Amendment legalizing bookies. Tommy Collier received public acclaim with his cross-pollination of the common pea and the commoner cotton boll, which resulted in cotton chlorophyll, considered one of the greatest discoveries of all times. Allan Collier is a designer in a Pretzel Factory. Chamol Galyean, who is considered the Clark Gable of the 21st century, seen in "Come Back With The Breeze," is up for an Oscar. Mary Alice Cooper is remodeling long-handled underwear for the Salvation Army. Laymon Lawrence and Peggy Eaton are appearing in Ringling Brothers' Circus. Laymon as a strong man and Peggy is featured as the world's tallest midget. Beverly Glaub, Miss America of 1960, was recently wed to a noted brain surgeon in New York. Stella Householder is a noted lady scientist whose research work on the carrot has been said to have resulted from a high school phobia named Allen. Veralie Ingram is said to be the first lady lawyer to graduate from Yale with high honors and a low hair-cut. Patsy Jones is a happy little housewife, who resides in Brinkly, Indiana. The Nobel Peach Prize this year was awarded to Patsy Maltbie for her arbitration in the Marmaduke-Rector games of 1970. Blake Parrish is now roaming the world in her new black jet-controlled convertible. It travels on land, in air and on sea. Irma Parrish is an officer in the "WAFS." Her motto: "I must go where the Air Force goes." Billye Sue Pinkston is now a Senior in College at Vassar. She is majoring in Colorology. Her present experiment is putting brown and pink together. Donna Sheilds is now the wife of one of New York's most famous florists. James Whitehurst is living as a hermit in Carlsbad Caverns at the latest report. It seems his pet skunks got too much for the neighborhood and he had to make a choice, which just goes to prove that old proverb; "James is a Skunk's best Friend." Beondel Taylor and Bill Benson are still in the Army. It's not that they particularly like it, it's just that they both got caught eating off-limit hamburgers and have been pulling KP. Patsy Shannon is a cloth designer for a chemical company. Her latest fabric is a wool-blend made from coffee-grounds. Barbara Mills is a cartoonist for Scruppo-Howard. Gary Melrose finally achieved his life-long ambition. He received his diploma this spring. Floyd Pence is an on-the-spot weather forecaster for W.M.C.T. Television.

Well, dear diary, I guess that's all except to mention that my two old friends of this afternoon were June Bradshaw, who is a policewoman for the dog-pound and Shirley Atnip, who runs an Army Surplus Mule Livery.

Goodnight for now. Press starts at the usual 6 A.M.
